ENGLISH-III

Notes

(DENG301)

SHORT STORIES
(Chapter-1)
THE GIFT OF THE MAGI

Short Question- Answer

Qus1: - What were Jim and Della's most precious possessions?
Ans : - Jim & Della's most precious possession were his gold watch and Della's long hair.

Qus2: - 'Down rippled the brown cascade.' Which cascade is being referred to in this line?
Ans: - Cascade of brown waters is being referred to in this line.

Qus3:- For how much money did Della sell her hair?
Ans:- Dells sold her hair at the cost of 20 dollars.

Qus4:- What was the price of the platinum fob chain?
Ans:- The price of platinum of fob chain is $21.

Qus5:- Earlier, Jim used to look at his gold watch on the sly. Why?
Ans:- Jim looked at his gold watch on the sly because it has old leather strap and he wants to convert into chain.

Qus6:- What prayer did Della utter when she heard Jim's footsteps on the stairway?
Ans:- When Della heard Jim's footstep on the stairways. She whispered, please. God, Make him think I am still pretty.

Qus7:- What was Jim's reaction on seeing Della after the haircut?
Ans:- After seeing Della's haircut Jim's was not angry nor surprise, nor disapproved.
Qus8:- Why did Della start weeping after unwrapping the package brought by Jim?
Ans:- Jim has given her the set of fancy combs She wanted for ages, only now she has no hair for it.

Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- Discuss the surprise ending of the story.
Or
Discuss the significance of the title "The Gift of the Magi".
Or
Narrate the story in your own words.

Ans : - The story opens with $1.87. That all Della has to buy a present for her beloved husband, Jim and the next day is Christmas. Faced with such a situation Della promptly bursts into tears on the couch, which gives the narrator an opportunity to tell us more about their lives. They live shabby flat and they're-extremely poor, but the richness of love for each other fills their lives. After recovering herself, she goes to mirror to let down her hair and examine it. Della's brown knee length hair is one of the two treasures of the poor couple. The other is Jim's gold watch. After examining her hair, Della puts it back up, sheds a tear and bundles up to head out into cold. She leaves the flat and walks to madam soforic's hair goods shop, where she sells her hair for twenty bucks. Now she has $21.87 cents.

With her new funds, Della is able to find Jim the perfect present, an elegant platinum watch chain for his watch. Its $ 21 and she buys it. Excited by making her new short hair presentable, She's not convinced Jim will approve, but she did what she had to do to get him good present. When she finishes with her hair, she gets to work preparing coffee & dinner.

Jim arrives at 7 pm to find Della waiting by the door and stares fixedly at her not able to understand that Della's hair is gone. Della too is not able to read his reaction. After a little while, Jim snaps out of it & gives Della her present, Della opens it and cries out in joy, only to burst into tears.

Jim has given her the set of fancy combs she's wanted for ages, only now she has no hair for them. Jim smiles, falling back on the couch. He sold his watch to buy Della's combs, he explains. They hugged each other and put away their present and have coffee and dinner and celebrate Christmas.
As they do so, the narrator brings the story to a close by pronouncing that both are the wisest of everyone who gives gifts. They are the MAGI.

Qus2:- Themes of the story

Ans: - The most important theme of the story is Love.

a. Love: This is a story of a poor, young couple whose love for each other is the most important thing in their lives. They are ready to sacrifice their most valuable possession for love. The warm home they make together contrasts with the darkness of their poverty &dreary world outside.
b. Wealth: The main characters of the story are very poor but their love for each other makes their lives rich. It leads us to the things in the world which are more valuable than money. Perhaps their poverty is what enables them to appreciate what really matters.
c. Women and femininity: The main character of this story is a woman named della. Lovable as she is at times she is hysterical often overreacting. The author many a times raises this question on her femininity.

The Duel
(Chapter-2)
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- What sight did France present immediately after the Prussian occupation?
Ans:- The country lay Quivering like a defeated wrestler under his opponent's knee.

Qus2:- Where had monsieur dubuis served the siege of Paris?
Ans:- Monsieur dubuis had served in the national guard throughout the siege of Paris.

Qus3:- How did Monsieur Dubuis look at the Prussian soldiers?
Ans:- he looked at the forces with mingled fear and irritation.

Qus4:- Why had the two Englishman come to France?
Ans:- Two Englishman had come to France as sightseers.

Qus5:- In the beginning the two Englishmen were quite keen to know about the Prussian officer's exploits in the war. Shortly afterwards, they lost all interest because the officer said something not to their liking. What was it?
Ans:- When he said that he killed twelve Frenchmen in that village and he took over one hundred prisoners.
Qus6:- What did the Frenchman do when he was asked to go and buy tobacco?
Ans:- The Frenchman jumped down and on the platform and clambered into the next compartment.

Qus7:- How did the Frenchman reach when the German pulled at his moustache?
Ans:- He stuck up his arm with the back of his hand and seizing him by the collar, flung him down on the seat.

Qus8:- Why did the German challenge the Frenchman to a duel?
Ans:- Because he felt humiliated by the Prussian officer.

(Chapter-3)
NITYA
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- What was the vow that Nitya's parents had taken when he was two years old?
Ans:- Nitya's parents made a vow to god that nitya's head would be shaved clean and his hair to be offered with due rites.

Qus2:- How are the parents reminded of the vow?
Ans:- One day casually turning the leaves of an old diary Nitya's father reminded of the vow.

Qus3:- How does Nitya react when he learns about his parents' decision to fulfil the vow?
Ans:- Nitya gets angry when he learns about his parents decision.

Qus4:- Where was the temple located?
Ans:- The temple was located on a distant hill.

Qus5:- Why does Nitya's father call him blasphemous?
Ans:- Nitya's father calls him blasphemous because even after fulfil this wish he is not ready to shave his head.

Qus6:- What historical information does the father share with his son about the temple?
Ans:- The temple was built in five hundred years ago by a chola king.
Qus7:- What happens to Nitya's hair at the end of the story?
Ans:- Nitya's hair were not cut as he ran away towards bus stop.

Nitya
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- Describe in your own words the journey Nitya and his parents undertake to the temple.
Or
Discuss Nitya's attitude towards the vow and the rituals related to it.
Ans:- The story 'Nitya' is written by R.K. Narayan. The story is about a family who once asked for a wish but after getting it fulfilled, they forgot all about it. The story is about twenty years old boy 'Nitya' who faced problem of whooping cough when he was two years old. His parents asked for a wish from god that if their child will be cured from this cough problem, they would offer Nitya's head to shave as a part of vow to the temple located on a distant hill. After sometime nitya recovered from his illness, his parents forgot about the wish which they had taken.
After eighteen years, when he was twenty, Nitya grew up as a handsome boy. His parents realized that they should fulfil this wish which they made to god. But Nitya was not ready to do this. He was very fashionable. But his parents were religious and god fearing. After convincing Nitya, immediately, trip was planned for the temple to fulfil the wish. As they arrived for the temple on the hill, they faced so many problems. They all moved for the temple through bus which was not comfortable but all the passengers adjusted as they could not afford luxurious bus except Nitya. The passengers were laughing and talking loudly throughout journey, they got in out whenever bus stopped.
Once they arrived for the vow ceremony, the barber who had to perform the ceremony was absent. He was out to perform some other ceremony in another village. When Nitya came to know about it he became very happy. But his happiness was short-lived as barber came back. But by now he refused to cut his four inches of hair and ran away from the scene.
Give and take tendency of human nature is so nicely presented in this story. Human is so mean that he does not spare god too. This story depicts double minded approach of human being those who perform religious ritual only for making their wishes fulfil.

(Chapter- 4)
The Fatalist
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- Why did Benjamin Schwartz come to be known as Benjamin fatalist?
Ans:- Benjamin Schwartz came to be known as Benjamin fatalist as he believed in fate, he believed that everything in life is pre-determined.
Qus2:- From where had the fatalist come?
Ans:- The fatalist had come from somewhere in Courland.

Qus3:- What did the fatalist do for a living?
Ans:- He worked as a teacher of German for his living.

Qus4:- What did the fatalist do when asked about his belief in special providence?
Ans:- Instead of replying in few words he spoke for an hour. He said that he didn't believe in god but all the things were predetermined Qus5:- What was Heyele's challenge to the fatalist?

Ans:- Heyele's challenged that he had to lie down on the rails few minutes before the train passed over them. If it is fated that he may live, He would live.

Qus6:- What condition did the fatalist lay down to accept Heyele's Challenge?
Ans:- The fatalist laid down the condition that he would lie down on the tracks as she proposed. She must make a sacred vow if he should live, she would break her engagement to Over Rubinstein and marry him.

Qus7:- How was the fatalist life saved?
Ans:- When he was lying on the railway track train stopped at once and he was saved.

Qus8:- Which book in the town library became popular with the young men because of the fatalist's influence?
Ans:- A hero of our time 'look in the down library became popular.

Qus9:- What were Heyele and Benjamin's states of mind immediately before the rail- track episode?
Ans:- No one could guess the state of mind of poet Benjamin but heyele was as white as she was suffering from typhoid.

Qus10:- Why did heyele put her arms around the Secretary and cry at the end?
Ans:- She was so scared of the incident that she could not stop herself.

The fatalist
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- Write Summary of Fatalist.
Ans:- The fatalist is a story of a young man, Benjamin Schwarz, who comes to be known as fatalist. He claimed before a group of people that everything is predetermined. He was working as a German teacher. As to honour an educated man in the town, he was invited to the club of young people. He was asked a question by a girl whether he believed in a special providence. He replied that he did not believe in god. But he believed that everything is determined. Everything is fated. What one has to face or to suffer. He was so fatalist that according to him there was no possibility of chance. Everything has to occur that is why it occurs. There was a young girl heyele minz , a pretty girl. All young follows were crazy about her. The fatalist fell in love with her soon after he arrived. He proposed her but she denied. He was sure about testing. One winter evening, again at the time of discussion. She gave a challenge to fatalist, she proposed the fatalist to lie down on the rails a few moment before the train passed over them. If it is fated that he had to live, he would live. Everyone was sure that fatalist would not be agreed. A deadly silence was there. He asked heyele if it happened she would have marry him. She took sacred vow and everything was settled that evening. Whole group was there at railway track waiting for train, that specific evening. Author could not sleep for whole night. Everyone was scared that one person was being sent to his death. Heyele asked fatalist that he could change his mind. She did not want him to die actually. Vibration of track was felt. At the moment train stopped no more than a yard away from fatalist. Heyele ran up to Author and started to cry fatalist was saved. They got married. Still this Mystery is unsolved if it was fate or chance.

(Chapter- 5)
The Child
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- Up to what level was Gangu educated?
Ans:- Gangu was completely illiterate.

Qus2:- Why did Gangu want to leave his job?
Ans:- Gangu wanted to marry a widow woman Gomti and he did not want people to raise their fingers at narrator on his account.

Qus3:- What was the narrator's reaction when he learnt about Gangu's decision to marry Gomti?
Ans:- Author felt both annoyed with and sympathetic towards gangu.

Qus4:- What was people's opinion about Gomti?
Ans:- According to people Gomti had a bad reputation.

Qus5:- What was Gangu's state of mind after his marriage to gomti?
Ans:- Gangu was very happy, his face had a glow which shows that he is contented his married life.

Qus6:- Why did gomti run away barely six month after her marriage?
Ans:- Gomti ran away to give birth to his illegitimate Child.

(ESSAYS)
(CHAPTER -6)
The Sun and Light
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- Where did Nehru write the letter from?
Ans :- Nehru wrote the letter from the central prison at Naini.

Qus2:- What 'present air and of the mind and spirit' does Nehru send indra
Ans:- Nehru send the best wishes through his letter to indra on her birthday.
Qus3:-
Which great Chinese traveler visited India thirteen hundred years ago?
Ans:- Hiuen Tsang, the great Chinese traveler.

Qus4:- What did the man mentioned in Hiuen Tsang's book wear on his belly and carry on his head and why?
Ans:- The man wore copper-plates on his belly carried lighted torch on his head.

Qus5:- What did the strange- looking man fear?
Ans:- the strange looking man was worried about the ignorance of common people of India. Who were living in darkness.

Qus6:- Which great leader led the Russian revolution?
Ans:- Lenin, the great leader started the Russian revolution.

Qus7:- What test does Nehru suggest to Indra to decide what is right and what is wrong?
Ans:- Nehru suggested Indra that by talking and discussing matters truth come out.

Qus8:- In manner does Nehru expect Indra to grow?
Ans:- He expects Indra to grow up as a brave soldier in India's service.

Qus9:- Why does Nehru called indra 'fortunate'?
Ans:- He called her fortunate as she had witnessed great struggle for freedom that was going in the country.

(Chapter 7)
My financial career
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- What are the things which make Leacock nervous?
Ans:- The berks, the wickets, the sight of the money, everything which makes Leacock nervous.

Qus2:- How much money did the narrator want to deposit in his account?
Ans:- The narrator wanted to deposit fifty six dollars in his account.

Qus3:- Whom did the narrator approach to open an account?
Ans:- The narrator approached the manager to open an account.

Qus4:- What did the manager mistake him for?
Ans:- the manager assumed him as one of Pinkerton's men.

Qus5:- How has the accountant been described by the narrator?
Ans:- The accountant was a tall and cool devil.

Qus6:- How much money did the narrator wish to withdraw from the bank and how much did he actually withdraw?
Ans:- The narrator wished to withdraw six dollar from the banks but he actually withdrew fifty six dollar.

Qus7:- Why did narrator write fifty six on the cheque?
Ans:-The narrator wrote fifty six on the cheque by mistake.

Qus8:- How long did he narrator's financial career last?
Ans:- The narrator's financial career ended almost as soon as it began.

My Financial Career
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- Bring out the element of humour in the essay.
Ans:- It is a painfully embarrassing experience of the narrator whose financial career ends as soon as begins, once narrator plans to open a bank account with his fifty dollars. He approaches to manager. At the first manager, without knowing his wealth takes him rather seriously. When he comes to know that his client is carry a small sum of money, he directs necessary formalities for opening an account, entire amount gets deposited, the narrator decides to withdraw six dollars. As he presents cheques, he gets horrified that instead of writing six dollars he has written fifty six. He finds it difficult to explain to clerk. So with this mistake a humour is created and his financial career gets over.

Qus2:- Describe the narrator meeting with manager?

Ans: - Narrators meeting with bank managers creates humour in the scene. As he enters the bank he decides to meet manager directly. He shows his desire to meet manager alone. It depicts the matter serious. Again when he enters to manager's room again he asks him to meet alone. Manager thinks that he wants to reveal some awful secret. Manager offers him to move to private room, manager opens the door and asks him that no one would disturb them at this narrator is one of pinker ton's man, a detective narrator clears the doubt and tells that he is there to open an account. Again manger thinks that he is there to deposit fairly large amount. But knowing that, it is such a small amount. He calls accountant and asks him to open the account.

(Chapter -8)
Principles of Good Writing
Question- Answer

Qus1:- What does one need to do before one can write clearly and logically?

Ans:- one should think clearly and logically before writing clearly and logically.

Qus2:- Clear, step by step thinking is difficult because the mind continually wanders. How can one improve one's ability to think clearly and logically?

Ans:- Practice will improve one's ability to think clearly and logically.

Qus3:- What should be done to increase one's vocabulary and to improve one's expression?

Ans:- One should read widely and carefully and keep a notebook to write down words and expressions to improve one's expression and to increase vocabulary.

Qus4:- To what extent is inspiration essential for writing?

Ans:- Only 1% inspiration is enough for writing well. It is totally based upon practice.

Qus5:- What should one to do save the ideas that come to one's mind?

Ans:- One should write down these ideas when they come to the mind.

Qus6:- Why is it advisable to write on subjects of which one has personal experience?

Ans:- Because one will be able to write on these much more convincingly and with great authority than second hand information.

Qus7:- How should the last paragraph of a piece of writing by written?

Ans:- Last paragraph or sentence should bring what you have written to a neat, satisfying end, leaving the reader with a clear idea of what you have been saying.

Qus8:- What does Hill say about elaborate, decorated style of writing?

Ans:- it is best to write simply and in a conversational tone. Clean, plain English is the fashion these days, and an elaborate, decorated style is quite out of date.

Principles of Good Writing
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:-Summarize Hill's views on the principles of good writing.
Ans:- In this Essay LA- Hill tells that if we want to write good we should think clearly, logically, vocabulary an expressions should be increased. Privacy is important for writing. He tells the ways how to choose a subject for writing and how to make writing interesting. We should read carefully and widely to increase vocabulary and expressions. To know the meaning properly, we should use dictionary. To improve availability we should do practice.
Good writing depends upon hard work. We can find many interesting things from surroundings for writing. For a good writing an interesting topics is not essential but a simple topic written in an interesting way impacts more. From magazines we can find interesting subjects related to woman, youth etc. Always choose the subjects about which we know very well and we can write on these subjects with full ability.
While writing on subject, always use systematic way. In starting write a brief description about the topic and the reasons for writing. Then ideas and arguments should be given. Ending should be clear and interesting . In writing we should convey our interesting feelings behind it.
If a subject is very important it should be discussed seriously. Abstract and tough words should be avoided. If we cannot find the exact expressions or word we should leave the space blank and filled it later. After completing the writing we must read it carefully and weak words can be changed. We must not mix up the formal and the slang expressions in the same piece of writing.

ivy INSTITUTE

(Chapter -9)
The Elixir of life
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- With what does Raman compare water?
Ans:- Raman compares water with Elixir.

Qus2:- Which ancient civilization does Raman refer to that was created and sustained by waters of an important river?
Ans:- Civilization of Nile in Egypt is the ancient Civilization.

Qus3:- "There is nothing which adds so much to the beauty of the countryside as water, "says Raman. Give some examples to illustrate this statement?
Ans:- There was just a little stream tickling over the rocks or a little pond by the wayside where cattle quench their thirst in an eve.

Qus4:- What is a common sight in south India?
Ans:- Mysore is common sight in south India.

Qus5:- To which part of human body does the write compare water in a landscape? Why?
Ans:- The writer compares water in a landscape with eyes of humans face because it reflects the mood of the hour being bright and gray when the sun shines, turning to dark and gloomy the sky in overcast.

Qus6:- What is silt?

Ans:- silt is solid, dust-like sediment that water, ice, and wind transport and deposit. Silt is made up of rock and mineral particles that are large than clay but smaller than sand.

Qus7:- What happens when silt-laden water mixes with the salt water of the sea?
Ans:- when silt laden water mixes with the salt water of the sea, there is a rapid precipitation the suspended Matter.

Qus8:- What is soil erosion?
Ans:- Soil erosion is a naturally occurring process that affects all landforms. In agriculture, soil erosion refers to the wearing a way of a field's topsoil by the natural physical forces of water and wind or through forces associated with farming activities such as tillage.
Qus9:- What is a forestation and in what way it is useful?
Ans:- A forestation is the process of establishing a forest on land that is not a forest, it is the process of planting trees. In the environment. It is useful in following ways.

1. They absorb carbon dioxide and help cut down the danger of global warming
2. They help prevent erosion
3. They beautify the environment
4. They help prevent heavy storms

The Elixir of life
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:-Based on your reading of the essay, write a paragraph on the conservation of rainwater.
Ans:- Water is, of course, necessary for animal life, while moisture in the soil is equally imperative for the life and growth of plants and trees, thought the quantity necessarily varies enormously with the species. The conservation and utilization of water is thus fundamental for human welfare. Apart from artesian water the ultimate source in all cases is rain or snowfall. Much of Indian agriculture depends on seasonal rainfall and is therefore very sensitive to any failure or irregularity of the same. The problems of soil erosion and of inadequate or irregularity rainfall are closely connected with each other. It is clear that the adoption of techniques preventing soil erosion would also help to conserve and keep the water where it is wanted, in other words on and in the soil, and such technique therefore serve a double purpose.
It is evident however that in a country having only a seasonal rainfall an immense quantity of rainwater must necessarily run off the ground. The collection and utilization of this water is therefore of vital importance.
Qus2:-In what way are rainwater, soil erosion and a forestation related?
Ans:- The flow of water has undoubtedly played a great part and a beneficent one in the geological processes by which the soil on the earth's surface has been formed from the rocks of its crust. Can also play destructive part and wash away the soil which is the foundation of all agriculture, and if allowed to proceed unchecked can have the most disastrous effects on the life of the country. The problem of soil erosion is one of serious import in various countries and especially in many parts of India. Soil erosion occurs in successive steps, the earliest of which may easily pass unnoticed. In the later stages, the cutting up and washing away of the earth is only too apparent in the formation of deep gullies and ravines which make all agriculture impossible. Sudden bursts of excessively heavy rain resulting in a large run-off of surplus water are the principal factors in causing soil erosion. Contributory causes are the slope of the land, removal of the natural protective coat of vegetation.
Qus3:-Discuss the measures suggested in the essay to tackle the menace of soil erosion.
Ans:- The menace which soil erosion presents to the continuance of successful agriculture is an alarming one in many parts of India, calling urgently for attention and preventive action. The terracing of land, the construction of bunds to check the flow of water, the practice of contour cultivation and the planning of appropriate types of vegetation are amongst the measures that have been suggested. It is obvious that the aim should be to check the flow of water at the earliest possible stage before it has acquired any appreciable momentum and correspondingly large destructive power.

(Chapter -10)
Streamlining
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- What are the three chief ways by which speed can be increased?
Ans:- There are three chief way by which speed can be increased.
1. We can improve the engine.
2. We can improve the duel which drives the engine.
3. We can reduce the air resistance.

Qus2:- What is air-resistance?
Ans:- Air like water or other fluids has weight and volume. On every square inch of our body the air presses with a weight of fourteen pounds, and this weight has to be pushed aside when we walk or run, just as water is pushed away by a swimmer. The air resists our efforts to push it aside.

Qus3:- Why do birds draw up legs when they are in flight?
Ans:- Birds draw up their legs when in flight to overcome air-resistance.

Qus4:- What should be done to sharp angels and projections if we want to streamline a car or an aero plane?
Ans:- First we would bend the front and the back body to give curved surface. Then tilt the windscreen towards back, remove wide mudguard and fit spats & spare wheels at back. Finally sink the lamp, door, handles and other projection into the body of the coach work.

Qus5:- Where are the wheels positioned in high speed aero planes when the planes leave the ground?
Ans:- In high speed aero planes, a device is used to retract the wheels. When the plane has left the ground.

Qus6:- Which was one of the earliest streamline trains introduced in Germany?
Ans:- ' Hamburger' was one of the earliest streamlined train introduced in German.

Qus7:- What happens if a car is built squarely at the back?
Ans:- If car is built squarely at the back it will cause suction which lessens speed.

Qus8:- What does friction do to the speed of a vehicle?
Ans:- Friction acts like a brake upon speed of a vehicle.

Streamlining
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:-Why has streamlining gained significance in modern times?
Ans:- Streamlining is a not a new concept. It is a very old idea used in a modern way. Long ago the American India shaped a light narrow boat moved by one or more paddles following this idea. He found that he could paddle his boat more softly trough the water if he builds his boat with pointed front part. Even he noticed that the fishes swimming in the rivers and birds gliding overheads were built to produce as little resistance against water or air in which they moved. This knowledge is sufficient for him to design his simple boats. The perfect model is one which follows exactly the line of the air-flow. The streamlined bodies of fishes and birds are accurately formed by nature to cause no friction with the flow of air or water, through which they glide. Speed of transport has become the greatest feature of the modern industrial world. Speed saves so much valuable time, that designers and mechanics everywhere are doing the best to increase the speed of motor –cars, ships and airplanes. There are three chief ways by which speed can be increased. a) We can improve the engine; b) we can improve the fuel, c) Reduce the air resistance.

Earlier little attention was given to air- resistance, but today streamlining of vehicles develop to overcome it. The streamlined car is made to cut the air instead of push it aside. Most of our older types of vehicles were designed without any attention. The old motor cars with flat fronts are bad example of streamlining as their highest speed is always below twenty or thirty miles an hour, as no importance was given to the matter of air- resistance.

One of good example, If we walk slowly we do not feel the air on our face, but if we run or ride on bike, we feel like a strong wind is blowing at us. This is called air – pressure. A here flattens its ears when running, birds draw up their legs when it flight. In aero plane streamlines are very important feature. The nose is tapered, the engine is made narrow and thin, the wings have sharp edges and the whole machine is built very low with almost invisible compartment for pilot.

POETRY

(Chapter 11)

ON HIS BLINDNESS – JOHN MILTON

Short Question- Answer

Qus1:-Explain: 'how my light is spend/ere half my days?
Ans:- In these lines poet describes, the time When he became blind at Middle age and was frustrated over losing half of his vision.

Qus2:-What is 'that one talent' the poet refers to in the poem?
Ans:- Poet refers to the talent of his poetry writing, that he feels was being wasted.

Qus3:-'But Patience, to prevent 'that murmur, soon replies'; what is 'that murmur?
Ans:- Murmur means inner voice. He murmurs his desire to serve god and helplessness.

Qus4:-Which power within the poet prevents the 'murmur'? what reply does it give?
Ans:- Patience of the poet prevents him to murmur or to complain the god.

Qus5:-Explain:- They also serve who only stand and wait?
Ans:- The people who accept the will of god whole- heartedly also serve the god.

Qus6:-Those who carry out god's orders serve him. Who else also serve god?
Ans:- The people who stand and wait for their turn. One who bears pains and suffering as services of god also serves him.

Qus7:-What words suggest that the poet thinks of god as hard task master?
Ans:- 'mild yoke' is a word which shows that poet thinks of god as hard task master.

ON HIS BLINDNESS – JOHN MILTON
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- What is the main idea of this sonnet?

Or

Describe how the poem begins on a note of sadness but ends in a mood of acceptance and resignation.

Ans:- On his blindness' is a poem written by John Milton. This poem teaches us that the ways of God to man are just. A man feels sad when he thinks that he has lost his eye-sight. He has lived just half of his life. He feels sad when he thinks that due to his blindness, he will not be able to write poetry. God has given to him the gift of writing poetry but now due to his blindness, his gift of writing poetry will remain unused. He fears that God will punish him for not using his gift of writing Poetry. He asks himself if God expects work from him even after his blindness. Soon he overcomes his fears and asks that God does not want any return of his gift of writing given to man. Man should obey to him willingly. Those who are contented with their lot are his best servants. God has thousands of Angles who fly over the lands and oceans to carry out His commands. Others stand by His throne wait for His orders. Thus, God is like a great king and man should also obey his orders without questioning.

IVY INSTITUTE

(CHAPTER 12)
Echoing green
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- Name the birds which sing to welcome the spring?
Ans:- Cuckoo sings to welcome the spring.

Qus2:- What purpose does the ringing of merry bells serve in the poem?
Ans:- The purpose of the ringing of marry bells in the poem is to WELCOME THE SPRING.

Qus3:- Where does old john sit?
Ans:- Old john sits on the bench under the oak tree in the park.

Qus4:- Who watches the children playing on the Echoing Green?
Ans:- The old people watch the children playing on the Echoing green.

Qus5:- What do the old folk say when they see the children playing?
Ans:-The old folk said that they also had fun when they were kids.

Qus6:- When does the play come to an end?
Ans:-When the sun begins to set, the little ones become weary and round the laps of their mothers.

Qus7:- Where do the children go when the sport on the green ends?
Ans:-When the sport on the green ends the children return home to round the laps of their mothers.

Qus8:- What happens to the echoing green at the end of the day?
Ans:- At the end of the day ,the children return home, birds back to their nest.

Long Question- Answer
The Echoing Green"

Qus9:- What is the Summary of poem?
Ans:- The sun rises on a green field where birds sing and children play. As they play, "Old John with white hair" and other elderly observers laugh at their antics and remember a time when they were young, energetic, and playful. Eventually the little ones grow tired and the sun begins to set. The children gather back to their mothers and prepare for a night's rest.

"The Echoing Green" consists of three ten-line stanzas, each in turn composed of five rhyming couplets. The first stanza focuses on the children playing in the morning; the second stanza shifts to the older people recalling their own youthful pleasures and is possibly set in the afternoon; and the third takes place at evening, as the weary children begin their tired journey home.

"The Echoing Green" is a joyful poem celebrating spring. The green fields, chirping birds, and playing children remind the elderly observers of their own youth and bring them joy as well. That the field is "Echoing" indicates that this scene, like the season of spring itself, has played out before and will play out again and again in the future.

In the second stanza, time has progressed. The older people remember their youth, as these children will someday be reminded of it by their own descendants. . Already the flowers fade and the possibility of endings, and eventually of death, is present.

A hint of melancholy affects the poem in the last stanza, where the "Echoing" green becomes the "darkening" green. Spring will always come, and with it all the joys and vitality of the season, but it always eventually ends, giving way to the cold and gloom of autumn and winter. Similarly, there will always be young people to celebrate their joy in this world, but every young child eventually matures into an adult like Old John.

(CHAPTER 13)
The world is too much with us
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- What does the title of the poem?
Ans: The title of the poem means that people are engaged in worldly matters and have no time to spend with nature.

Qus2:- How do we lay waste our powers?
Ans: We waste our powers as we have occupied ourselves in earning money.

Qus3:- What have the winds been compared with?
Ans: Winds have been compared with sleeping flowers.

Qus4:- What would the poet like to be in order to enjoy nature?
Ans: Poet wants to become a pagan in order to enjoy the nature.

Qus5:- Why would the poet like to be a pagan?
Ans: Poet would like to be a pagan so that he can see images of Ancient God rising from the wave.
Qus6:- What effect does an undue involvement in materialistic pursuits have on people?
Ans: This undue involvement, people have lost and wasted their spiritual power and their life has become sordid boon.

Qus7:- Explain:-'we have given our hearts away, a sordid boon!'
Ans: We have done a wasteful deal with our hearts. We have occupied ourselves in earning money.

The World is too much with us

Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- How has materialism affected us?

Or

Why does nature fail to move us?

Or

In what ways would the poet like the people to change?

Or

Give the central idea of the poem

Ans:- This poem is written by Wordsworth. Wordsworth gives a fatalistic view of the world, past and future. This poem is based on the fact that people in the world are engaged in worldly matters. These people have no time to spend to see the nature. In the beginning poet puts the question and in the end itself gives the answer.

Poet describes that nature has given us lot of things to enjoy but we have no time to see it. We have occupied ourselves in earning money. We have done a wasteful deal with our hearts.

Poet claim that man is going away or getting detached from beautiful sights of nature the sea which is telling its sorrowful story to moon, the winds that are shouting at the top of their voice to highlight their condition.

Poet is fed up with this world. As he does not see nature as a commodity. He expresses that we should be able to appreciate beautiful events like moon shining, wind blowing. He wants to become a pagan so that he can see images of ancient Gods rising from the waves. He wants to see ancient Gods in the action of nature.

ivy INSTITUTE

(Chapter- 14)
A Bird Came Down the Walk
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- What did the bird do at the angle-worm?
Ans:-Bird bit the angle-worm into two pieces and ate it.

Qus2:- Did the bird know it was being watched?
Ans:-No, bird did not know that it was being watched.

Qus3:- What did the bird do when it saw the beetle?
Ans:-It hopped sideway to the wall to let the beetle pass.

Qus4:- What did the birds eyes look like?
Ans:-Bird's eyes were looking like frightened beeds.

Qus5:- How is the bird's head described?
Ans:-Poet used the word velvet head for bird's head.

Qus6:- What did the narrator offer to the bird?
Ans:-Narrator offered a crumb to the bird.

Qus7:- What did the bird do when it was offered a crumb?
Ans:-Bird unrolled its feather and flew away.

Qus8:- What did the bird drink from a convenient grass?
Ans:-Bird drank a dew drop.

A Bird Came Down the Walk
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- Summary of the poem.

Or

How does poet describe bird's fear?

Ans:- 'A bird came down the walk' is a poem by Emily Dickinson. In many of her finest poems, Dickinson explores the nature of pain, its effect upon human soul, and its relation with death. In this poem, poet describes the scene in which a bird comes down a walk, eats a worm, drinks a dew drop and if sees that man is looking at him. He flies away. On the other level the poet shows the relationship between the world of human beings and the nature.

In the first stanza, poet says that a bird comes down the walk without any fear, even he doesn't know that anybody is watching him. He looks here and there and bites an angle-worm is halves and eats it. In the second stanza, he says that he drinks a dew drops on the grass. When bird sees the beetle, it hops sidewise to the wall, as it is giving the way to beetle to pass. He is unable to comprehend human intentions; he reacts with suspicion and fear. Poet offers it a crumb but rejects this offer and flies away.

The poet observes that the flight of the bird is "softer" than that of a boat being rowed on the water or that of butterflies plunging soundlessly into space. In this poem, the simple experience of watching a bird hop down a path allows her to present her extraordinary poetic powers of observation and description.

Dickinson keenly depicts the bird as it eats a worm, pecks at the grass, hops by a beetle, and glances around fearfully. As a natural creature frightened by the speaker into flying away,

(Chapter- 15)
Stopping by woods
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- Why did narrator stop in the wood?

Ans-Narrator stopped in the woods as it seemed him very beautiful and attractive.

Qus2:- What did the horse possibly think when the poet stopped in the woods?

Ans-the horse possibly thought that it was very strange to stop here without any reason as there was no house nearby.

Qus3:- What did the horse do to ask if the poet had stopped by mistake in the woods?

Ans-the horse shook his harness bells.

Qus4:- The horse made the voice by shaking his harness bells. What other sound was heard in the woods?

Ans-the other voice rather than harness bells was sound of easy winds and downy flakes.

Qus5:- Which promise does the poet allude to in the expression promises to keep? What is your guess?

Ans-he has lots of duties to perform before doing rest.

Qus6:- How far away was the destination?

Ans-the destination was miles away.

Long Question- Answer
Stopping by woods on a snowy evening – Robert Frost

Qus1:- Describe the central idea of the poem.

Or

What made the narrator feel that he must break free of the spell of the snow-filled woods and move on?

Ans:- Stopping by woods on a snowy evening, is one of frost's best known lyrics. Frost is regarded as a great nature poet like words worth. This poem is a message to work hard to achieve goal, without rest. In this poem poet describes his journey to woods. Once poet is going through lovely woods. he is fascinated by its surroundings .he thinks that this woods belong to a man who lives in a village and poet assures himself that he is not looking at the poet who has stopped in his forests. The whole field is filled with snow, poets horse is feeling it strange that there is no farm house nearby and it was not a proper place to stop. As one side there are woods and on the other side there is a frozen lake. Moreover it was the darkest evening of the year. Horse gives a shake to his harness bells and remains the poet his duty. He wants to know if his Master is on mistake. Because at that place only wind is there. Poet realizes that it is not the right time and right place to stop. In this way, this poem is a message and a deeper meaning for people. Sleep means death. Message behind this poem that one should not think of rest without fulfilling his responsibilities.

(Chapter- 16)
Palanquin Bearers
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- Who do you think is being carried in the palanquin?
Ans:- A bride is being taken in the palanquin.
Qus2:- For what purpose were palanquins used in the past?
Ans:- A mode of transportation which was used primarily by men of means or women of the upper classes.
Qus3:- What else do the bearers do while they carry the palanquin?
Ans:- Bearers sing while carrying the palanquin.

Qus4:- What words does the poet use to describe the manner in which the bearers carry the person in the palanquin?
Ans:- They carry her softly on the shoulders and happily doing their jobs.

Qus5:- What emotion do the bearers display in doing their work?
Ans:- They carry a person in the palanquin into rich and joyful experience as they sing song in harmony with their movement.

Qus6:- Explain: 'She sways like a flower in the wind of our song'.
Ans:- As lovely flower moves in wind similarly she enjoys the song sung by Palanquin Bearers.

Ivy Institute

Palanquin Bearers
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- Summarize the poem in your own words.

Or

Describe the various images the poet evokes in relation to the woman sitting in the palanquin.
Ans:- It is one of the famous works of Sarojini Naidu. This poem expresses the joy and pride of the palanquin bearers in carrying the royal princess to her in laws house. The palanquin bearers are taking the princess in a palanquin and say that the royal princess is not at all a burden for them but a privilege as she sits and dream of her future after marriage.
According to the bearers they carry the princess very carefully as if she is like dew or a tear drop. They sing happily as they carry her away. The princess also sways long on hearing their song. she all the way hears the song. They say that she is like the bird that skims on the foam of a stream. The way on her journey towards her in laws she gets extremely emotional because she is entering into an entirely different world leaving her near and dear ones behind at the same time she also has new hopes and excitements for the new phase of her life.

This is a poem that describes about the bearers who are carrying their princess's palanquin over their shoulders and are extremely devoted towards their duty. They take all the measures to carry her joyfully, carefully and lightly as they can.

(CHAPTER 17)
(NIGHT OF SCORPION)
Short Question- Answer

Qus1:- Where did the scorpion hide itself?
Ans: The scorpion hid itself under the sack of rice.

Qus2:- What did the scorpion do after parting with its poison?
Ans: After parting with its poison the scorpion disappeared.

Qus3:- What did the scorpion peasants do when they came?
Ans: When the peasant came they showed the sympathy and they all started reciting the name of god. They all were searching for scorpion under the light of candles and lanterns.
Qus4:- What was the effect of the poison on the mother?
Ans: The mother was getting unconscious and poison was spreading in her body at speed.

Qus5:- What did the father do to lessen the effect of the poison on the mother?
Ans: The father tried to relieve using every herbs and medicines.

Qus6:- Do you think the poison wore off because of (a) the prayers (b) the medicine (c) by itself?
Ans: The poison wore off by the medicine.

Qus7:- How do the people relate the mother's suffering to the misfortunes of her next birth?
Ans: According to people with this suffering sin's of her previous birth would get washed away.

Qus8:- How long did the effect of the poison last?
Ans: The poison lasted the effect for twenty hours.

Night of Scorpion
Long Question- Answer

Qus1:- Comment on the reaction of the mother. How has the speaker described it?

Or

Compare the attitudes of the father, the mother, the narrator, and the peasants to the incident.

Ans:- This poem is written by 'Nislim Esekill'. He remembers the day when his mother was bitten by scorpion. Due to continuous rain scorpion entered into their house. It crawled under a sack of rice. In dark room, when his mother entered, the scorpion bit her toe and disappeared. The peasants of the village collected in their house in large numbers like the swarms of flies'. They all started reciting the name of gods. They all believed that it would stop the movement of scorpion, as they all believed that movement of scorpion would make the poison move in the mother's blood. They all were searching for scorpion. But It was not found. They all prayed that the scorpion should not move. According to them sins of her previous birth would get washed away. Everyone thought that her end was near. The condition was becoming worse. The rain too continued. The poet's father was a rational person. He tried to relieve her by using herbs and medicines. He was playing that she was saved. Hot paraffin was poured on the toe to burn it. After few hours sting was lost. The mother, got relieved then she thanked god, that the scorpion had not bit her kids. This shows her selfless love for her children.